Thirteen Daytonians are playing important roles in the planning for the state convention of the Ohio Association of Deans of Women to be held Friday through Sunday (Nov. 18-20) in Dayton.

Miss Theresa Folger of Fairview high school is chairman of local arrangements and registration, with Mrs. Mary L. Githens of Fairmont and Miss Christena Wahl of Southdale school, Kettering, as members of her committee.

Visitors' day and hospitality is being handled by Miss Frances Brown of Roosevelt. On her committee are Mrs. Ethel C. Beam and Miss Mary Louise Maloney, both also of Roosevelt; Miss Martha Schauer of Stivers and Miss Wahl of Southdale, Kettering.

Miss Kathleen Whetro, dean of women at the University of Dayton, is chairman of publicity.

In charge of exhibits ^{is} ~~are~~ Miss Catherine Hadelor of Oakwood high school, assisted by Mrs. Garnet S. Deem of Kiser and Miss Mildred Purviance of Wilbur Wright.

The entire convention is under the direction of Miss Lucille Wallace, assistant principal of White high school. She is president of the association.

More than 100 deans, high school principals, assistant principals and counselors are expected to attend the convention. Headquarters for the three-day meet is the Biltmore Hotel.
